When transacting with us, your order is accepted and your Transaction is completed only when: 1) your payment is accepted, or your payment information is verified if the Transaction required your payment information without immediate payment; and 2) we send you a confirmation email of your order.

- a. You will have access to the Service for the duration of your contract.
- b. If you have a fixed-term subscription, then your Service will terminate automatically at the expiration of your subscription term.

- c. If you have an automatically renewing subscription, your Service will renew on an annual or monthly basis, unless you cancel before the day on which you are due to be charged.

- c. To ensure you have continuous Services, we charge your payment method no more than thirty-five (35) days before the subscription is due to renew. As such, the date you are charged will likely occur prior to the date that your subscription renews. The actual date that we charge your payment method depends on several factors (e.g. if it's a public holiday, if your payment method has not successfully settled due to expiration, insufficient funds, or otherwise).

You can cancel the subscription renewal at any time and no later than the day before you are due to be charged by signing in to your account and visiting the My Subscriptions tab, or by contacting us. If you cancel, your subscription will not renew and you will not be charged for the next renewal term, but your Service will stay active for the remaining days in your existing (already paid for) term; except in some countries where, the termination will have immediate effect and will give the right to a pro-rated refund subject to one (1) month notice, but this exception is not applicable for termination of the initial term. For further details, see our Cancellation and Refund Policy or contact us.
